TIKI® Brand BiteFighter™ String Lights with Proven Mosquito Repellency* Named as CES 2022 Innovation Awards Honoree

MENOMONEE FALLS, WI (November 12, 2021) – TIKI Brand announced it has been named a CES® 2022 Innovation Awards Honoree for their BiteFighter™ String Lights with proven mosquito repellency.* This year's CES Innovation Awards program received a record high number of over 1,800 submissions. The announcement was made ahead of CES 2022, the world's most influential technology event, happening Jan. 5-8 in Las Vegas, NV, and digitally.

The CES Innovation Awards program, owned and produced by the Consumer Technology Association \(CTA\)®, is an annual competition honoring outstanding design and engineering in 27 consumer technology product categories. An elite panel of industry expert judges, including members of the media, designers, engineers and more, reviewed submissions based on innovation, engineering and functionality, aesthetic, and design.

“We are thrilled to be the first to combine the ambiance of string lights with the convenience of proven mosquito repellency,” said TIKI Brand Sr. Product Manager Jeremy Yingst. “Our mission at TIKI Brand is to create products that allow consumers to experience carefree moments in their outdoor space, so being able to bring this technology to life is exciting and we are honored to be named a CES Innovation Award Honoree.”

The string lights include a 36-foot string with three integrated repellent diffusers, three BiteFighter™ replaceable repellent pods and 12 shatter-resistant LED bulbs. On when you want them and off when you don't, the pre-filled pods last 200 hours and provide a protection zone of 330 sq. feet.

The CES 2022 Innovation Awards honorees, including product descriptions and photos, can be found at CES.tech/innovation.
